

Love Lives Lonely Lovers

Wait for me, lady cries
Screaming trains, rainfall eyes
Stars around, paper weights
Screaming trains, empty gates
I won't forget, your pretty face
Screaming trains, another place

We've lost control of who and where we want to be
But here's a rose, here's a rose, so set me free

There's a war, as you can tell
Restless feet, living hell
I want to walk, I want to dream
Restless feet it's what it's been
Colours paint themselves untied
Restless feet, love to hide

We've lost control of who and where we want to be
But here's a rose, here's a rose, so set me free

Don't fall apart, you pretty thing
Lover's eyes, pale diamond ring
Glassy waves, blacked out names
Lover's eyes, sinners games
Don't fall apart he hears him say
Lover's eyes, he's gone away

We've lost control of who and where we want to be
But here's a rose, here's a rose so set me free
Here's a rose and I can't think of anywhere I'd rather be
Here's a rose, here's a rose, so set me free
