

People Who Should Probably Be in Jail

I've lived on the edge
Of the vicar's right shoulder
I've pushed down on his ribcage
Trying to stop him from breathing
I've painted the roses
I've charged them in traffic
I've never been caught
And I'm never leaving

Oh but you can't blame me
Oh but you can't blame me
Oh but you can't blame me
But I'm the guilty one

I called her a boy scout
She charged me with vanity
I stole all the mirrors
Now they fill each others' seats
Your guns are all blanks
You sail past the ocean
I made you watch TV
Now isn't that sweet

Oh but you can't blame me
Oh but you can't blame me
Oh but you can't blame me
But I'm the guilty one

I think you've misjudged me
You thought I was gone
I played with your statues
I sent them to hell
I paid for your senators
You carry me on horseback
I've spent most of my lifetime
In a 6 foot cell

Oh but you can't blame me
Oh but you can't blame me
Oh but you can't blame me
But I'm the guilty one
